November President's Message

Friends,

I trust that everyone enjoyed the holidays. Now refreshed, cleansed of our sins, suitably warm and dry from the shelter of our sukkah, and contentedly satisfied from our feasts – we turn forward to the tasks of the New Year.

We had great attendance and participation for the holiday services this year. Thanks to Leon Metlay for coordinating the services and all who helped with readying the sanctuary for the High Holy days, page announcing, chanting haftorot, and assisting with the services.

The following people helped to build the sukkah this year: Leon Metlay, Stan Schaffer, Esther Vogelstein, Paula Bobb, Art Mercer, Steve Teitel, Ira Cohen, Matt Honickman and Joe Yudelson. Leon Metlay and Harris Honickman spent several hours taking down the sukkah on 10/22. Great job and thanks to all!

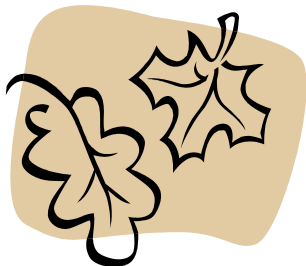

Special thanks to Janet Grable for sponsoring the kiddushim for Sukkot and Shemini Atzeret as well as the September-October-November Birthday and Anniversary Kiddush.

We will be calling members to help with leaf raking on Nov. 12th and 19th. Please help out. The job is easier and goes much faster the more people we have helping.

Finally, I want to wish each and every one of you a happy Thanksgiving.

See you at shul,

Harris Honickman

Focus on Israel

The ancient yet modern city of Safed (called Sefat in Hebrew), located 3200 feet above sea level in the mountains of eastern Galilee, is one of Judaism's 4 holy cities. For centuries it was the home of many of Judaism's great mystics. One of our great sages, Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai, predicted that at the end of days, the messiah will travel from Safed to Jerusalem. Following the Spanish Inquisition, many of the world's greatest Jewish religious scholars and mystics moved to Safed, which flourished as a site of great learning. It became the spiritual center of the Jewish world and the place where the Kabbalah was developed and reached the peak of its influence. Subsequently, Safed went into decline because of earthquakes, plagues and Arab attacks. The battle for Sefed during Israel's War of Independence was one of the war's most dramatic -- the city was saved by a single small cannon known as the Davidka.

Many of Safed's ancient synagogues are still in use. Today, Safed's cobblestone alleyways are lined with art galleries and Judaica shops. Safed has drawn thousands of Ethiopian and Russian Jews, who now call it home. In fact, Israel's largest absorption center for Ethiopian Jews is located in Safed. During this past summer's war, Safed was targeted by Hizbollah and many missiles fell on the town. Luckily, none of Safed's ancient historical sites was destroyed. For more information about Safed, go to www.safed.co.il.
