Congregation Beth Hamedresh – Beth Israel

BULLETIN

Editor: Stan Schaffer

June President's Message

Dear Friends,

With this first message in my new term as President of our Congregation, I would like to express my thanks and appreciation for your confidence in electing me once again to lead our Congregation. I would like to express my sincere thanks to my immediate predecessor, Leon Metlay, for the great job he has done these past two years. We all know that BHBI would not be BHBI without Leon, and we are all greatly indebted to him for the timeless effort he expends serving the Congregation in so many different roles. I would also like to thank all of you who have agreed to serve as officers and board members for the upcoming year. Together let us all work to continue BHBI's tradition as the warmest and friendliest synagogue in town!

The month of June will start off with one of our three major festivals, Shavuot, commemorating the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai. We will initiate our celebration of the holiday together with our friends from Temple Beth Am with a dinner on Erev Shavuot, Tuesday evening, June 7, at 6:30 pm at BHBI followed by a service, dessert and a trivia quiz, and a study session. The dinner is open to all members of the community, so why not invite a friend and help introduce them to our congregational family? They are guaranteed a good time and a delicious meal! Please see the reservation form on page 5 of this bulletin for information about the reservation deadline and cost of the dinner. Our schedule of services for the entire Shavuot holiday are listed in the bulletin's calendar.

As we move forward we can be proud that our congregation has remained stable, both financially and in terms of membership, over the last several years. Yet challenges are always lurking around the corner. Let us all work to strengthen and build our congregation for the future. If you have friends who are unaffiliated, or shul shopping, please bring them along to Shabbat services or one of our other shul functions. They will get a warm welcome and will be able to see the many advantages that a small but dedicated synagogue has to offer. Please be generous when we have our annual High Holiday Appeal, and at other times when you wish to celebrate a simcha or remember a loved one. But most importantly, please be generous with your own time. Make the effort to come to services a little more often, or join one of the many committees that are vital to the everyday functioning of the congregation. As always, I welcome your input and suggestions. You may contact me at any time either by email (stte@pas.rochester.edu) or by phone (473-5741).

See you in shul,

Steve Teitel

Mizmor shir le-yom ha-Shabbat...

What is the connection between Psalm 92 and Shabbat? There is no clear-cut connection. During the period of the Second Temple each day was assigned its own Psalm which was sung by the Levites as the sacrifices were being offered. A listing of the Psalms is given in the Mishnah (Tamid 7:4), but with no explanation. Later the Psalms were transferred to the Synagogue, and prefaced by the words, "This is the Psalm that the Levites would recite on such and such a day in the Temple" (ha-yom yom rishon, sheni, etc.). The recitation was thus a beautiful reminder of the Temple service.

In the midrashic literature there is an attempt to explain why the particular Psalms of the Day were chosen, not always with great success:

What is recited on Sunday? What is recited on Monday?... "What is recited on the seventh day? Mizmor shir le-yom ha-Shabbat." — the day will be entirely Sabbath, in which there will be no eating or drinking, no business dealings, but the righteous will sit with their crowns on their heads and imbibe the splendor of the Sabbath like the ministering angels" (Avot D'Rabbi Natan A 1).

In other words, Psalm 92 was not for the Sabbath, the seventh day, but for the Great Sabbath at the end of days. Shabbat is seen as a foretaste for the world to come. With its description of a perfect world in which the righteous will be rewarded and the wicked punished, Ps. 92 will be sung at that time.

Another interpretation connects Psalm 92 with Adam, who first recited it. Adam was created on Friday and, according to rabbinic interpretation, was banished from the Garden of Eden before the beginning of Shabbat. That evening, the first evening in his life, when he saw the light vanish and the darkness grow, Adam feared that this was God's punishment upon him. He feared that the world would always be dark. In the morning, when the sun rose, he realized that this was a natural phenomenon. He rejoiced and brought an offering to God. At that time, according to the Midrash, "three groups of ministering angels descended with lutes, lyres, and all kinds of musical instruments, in their hands. Together with Adam they sang a song of praise: A Psalm, a Song for the Sabbath, it is good to give thanks unto the Lord....proclaiming Your live each morning" (Avot D'Rabbi Natan A 1).

Psalm 92 is one of the most beloved of the Psalms. It has been beloved of hazzanim throughout the ages, and in modern times Jewish composers have frequently composed settings of parts of it or the entire Psalm. Louis Lewandowski, the great nineteenth-century German-Jewish composer created at least 6 settings of it for hazzan and choir, including the melody of tzaddik ka-tamar which we and countless other synagogues sing. Salomon Sulzer, the great hazzan in Vienna, invited Franz Schubert to set the Hebrew words to music, to which he agreed.

Even if the Psalm appears to have no direct connection with the Sabbath, I would like to suggest that its mood and structure fit that of the Sabbath perfectly. Just from the aspect of form it has a beautiful structure. It has an opening section of four verses, a middle section of longer and shorter verses, and then a closing section, again of verses. The content and moods expressed in the Psalm reflect the three divisions. The opening section expresses a mood of thanks, joy and gratitude which is expressed through song and instrumental music. The middle section deals with the perennial issue of why the wicked flourish in the world and the deeds of the righteous seemingly are not rewarded. But the Psalmist is confident that in the final scheme of things, justice and righteousness will prevail. And so the final four verses express this confidence and trust; our good deeds will bear their fruit and the world will make sense. The opening verses of praise and the final verses of confidence are thus entirely appropriate for the Sabbath.

One final comment. The rabbis noticed that in Psalm 92 God's name occurs seven times. The Talmud connected the Psalm to the seven berakhot of the Amidah recited on the Sabbath (J. Ta'anit 65c). The number seven is, of course, symbolic of wholeness and perfection. Surely another reason for reciting the Psalm 92 on the Sabbath.

MEMORIAL PLAQUES

You can memorialize a friend or loved one by purchasing a BHBI memorial plaque. Our memorial plaques are very reasonably priced. For more information, contact Stan Schaffer at 473-8072 or stanschaffer@frontiernet.net

THE RABBI FUND

Contributions to the Rabbi Fund enable us to engage Rabbi Goldberg to lead additional services at BHBI during the year. Whenever the funds in the Rabbi Fund reach a predetermined level, we will schedule an additional service with Rabbi Goldberg. To contribute to this purpose, please send a check in to BHBI with a notation that the contribution should be used for the Rabbi Fund.

BHBI WEB SITE

Have you checked out the BHBI web site lately? If you haven't there is a lot that you're missing. The web site at www.BHBIRochester.org provides information about many aspects of our congregation, lists the BHBI calendar, has electronic versions of this and previous bulletins going back several years, has an extensive history of our congregation along with historic photos, includes photos from several BHBI dinners, picnics and other special events, and has the unique Adon Olam Songbook with information on over 100 melodies for Adon Olam.
